THE NEW SUPERVISOR AT WORK. AUGUSTUS C. FISCHER REGINS HIS DUTIES IN THE EIGHTH WARD-VETOES BY

MR. FITCHIE. Augustus C. Fischer took als seat as Supervisor of the Elighth Ward yesterday, succeeding Frederick Linde, who served under appointment of the Board of Aldermen until the special election re-sulted in the choice of Supervisor Fischer.

Three vetoes were handed down yesterday by Subill for telephone service in the office of the Sheriff last year, saying in it, as the Sheriff received incre-tive fees, he should not ask the county to pay his telephone bills. Another of the vetoes was of a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to sell at auction the armories owned by the county, not now used or intended to be used for military purposes. In his veto of this, Mr. Fitchie said:

military purposes. In its veto of this, all Friesdal's said:

"If this resolution were permitted to become operative, it would give opportunities for fraud rivalling any yet perpetrated in the city or county government, and more evil in its consequences, because it would appear to have the sanction of law behind it. I am sure the majority of the members of the board did net appreciate the possibilities the resolution would open up used they would for it. While I have no blea that any five members of this board would abuse such power, if granted to them, nevertheless it becomes my duty to veto the resolution, as I hereby do, and keep standing the safeguards around county interests."

The vetoes were ordered on file.

SIMON P COOTEY, DESPONDENT OVER HIS BUSINESS, SHOOTS HIMSELF IN THE LONG

ISLAND RAILROAD STATION. verses in business drove Simon P. Cootey, of No. 736 Carroll-st., Brooklyp, to commit suicide yesterday afternoon. He took his life in the Long Island Railroad station at Atlantic and Flatbush aves. Mr. Cootey was a man fifty years old and was well known as a contractor and builder in South Brooklyn. His brother, Philip I. Cootey, who lives at the same number, is an architect. When the financial depression stopped the activity in the building trade last year. Mr. Cootey embarked in other business. For the last few months he and his son had been engaged in fruit cleaning at No.

had not proved profitable, and Mr. Cooley had been suffering from despondency for some time.
His wife is an invalid.

Yesterday mernas Mr. Cooley hade her good-by as usual and started for business at his customary hour. Nothing unusual was noticed in his manner.
About the middle of the afternoon he left his office and went to Brooklyn. He was noticed loftering about the Long Island station for an hour or more, until about 5 p. m., when a pistol-shot was heare in a closet. Mr. Cooley was found to have put the muzzle of a five-chamiserel revolver in his mouth and to have sent a builet into his brain. The wound was almost instantly fatal, for Mr. Cooley was dead when the ambidiance surgeon arrived.

The relatives of the dead man say that he committed suicide while suffering from temporary aberration of mind caused by despondency.

HIS WIFE CUT HIM DOWN.

William Bolnsteidt, thirty-two years old, of No. William Bolnsteidt, thirty-two years old, of No.
94 Oakland-st., while despondent yesterday because of his failure to find employment, attempted sulcide by hanging himself with a rope, which he had fastened to the transom over one of the doors of his apartments. His wife, who was at work in an adjoining room, heard the noise, and, running an adjoining room, heard the noise, and, running to the room and seeing her husband suspended by the neck, cut the rope. When Mrs. Bolnsteidt fourd that her husband was little the worse for the attempt he had made upon his life, she boxed his carrs and then called in a policeman and had him carrested on a charge of attempted suicide. He was locked up and will be arraigned to-day in the Ewen-st. Police Court.

ECKFORD WEBE'S DAUGHTER COMPLAINS. Mrs. Jersie B. Ranken, who was the adopted daughter of the late Eckford Webb, the wealthy property owner of No. 78 Rush-st., and who in-herited half of his fortune, yesterday secured warrants for the arrest of her husband and step-son in the Lee-ave. Police Court, on charges of assault. Mrs. Ranken tried to have the warrants assault. Mrs. Ranken tried to have the warrants for burglary, but the magis-rate refused to grant them. Since the death of Mr. Webb the Ranken family has lived in the Rush-st, house. About a month ago, according to Mra Ranken, ner husband and his son left the house after a quarrel between them. She did not see them again until Sunday night, when they burst open the front door and rushed into the parior, where she was entertaining three men, and began to call her improper names. The men remonstrated, and in return were assaulted. They left the house, and Ranken and his son, she says, began to destroy the bric-a-brac about the parior, after which they left the house.

NOTHING DONE AT HEADQUARTERS.

SO KRESS HAD POLICEMAN DWYER INDICTED

FOR HIS ILLEGAL ARREST-THE TRIAL IN GENERAL SESSIONS. William Dwyer, a policeman on the Old Slip force.

is on trial before Judge Martine in Part II, General Sessions, charged with assault and oppression in arresting without cause Henry Kress, a liquorseller at John and Nassau sts., on June 4 last, Kreas testified that Dwyer entered the barroom about 8 p. m., as the witness was about to close the place. Dwyer asked for a drink, and the witness refused to give it. Dwyer said: "If you won't give me a drink I'll arrest you."

"All right, go ahead," the witness replied, and Dwyer arrested him. On the way to the Old Slip station three friends of the witness, named Emil Haige, Adolph Tugendrich and Mrs. Fuchs, joined the procession, and Mrs. Fuchs was loud in berating the pollecman. Dwyer then arrested all three, and arraigned the four for disorderly conduct. Mrs. Fuchs was discharged, but the others were locked up and fined on the next morning at the Tombs. Kress took the matter to the Police Commissioners a fortnight after, but no action was taken in Dwyer's case, so Kress went before the Grand Jury, and Dwyer was indicted. In testifying to his experience at Police Headquarters Kress said: "I went before Inspector Williams. The defendant was there, and I repeated the charges. The Inspector asked the defendant why the arrest was made, and the defendant replied that I had been shouting and making a noise on the corner. The Inspector said he didn't believe it. We were not cowboys or corner loafers, he said, but business men. If we were making a noise, the policeman should have told us to go home quietly. Then he station three friends of the witness, named Emil

The big steamship La Bretagne, of the French line to Havre, which grounded on a bar east of SUICIDE OF A WELL-KNOWN BUILDER. Fire Island on Sunday, in a fog. floated off at high water yesterday morning, and came to port uninjured. There was a pilot on board the steamer at the time she went aground, but it is said that he nad not yet taken charge of her. The steamer was groping her way through the fog at about quarter speed when she struck. At 9:49 on Sun-day night there was a sharp grating sound heard and the vessel stopped. There was no excitement on board, and lew of the passengers knew what on board, and rew of the passengers knew what had happened. As soon as the steamer struck, the engines were reversed, and were kept constantly nacking until 1140 p. m., when, the tide having risen, the ship slid quietly off the sands and proceeded to the neighborhood of Sandy Hook, where she anchored at about 3 a, m. yesterday. While the steamer was aground the captain of the line Foint Li e-saving Station came on board and effected any assistance in his power. Fortunately the assistance of the Life-saving Station was not needed, as the sea was calm and the wind light. As it was, there was nothing a great danger about the position of the ship, but had the wind and the sea been in a stormy mood La Bretagne would have added another to the long list of wrecks which have strewn the Lang Island shore. Captain Rupe said yesterday. "At 6 o'clock last night there was a dense fog hanging over the sea, It was so dense that one could not see 150 feet away. At 900 o'clock I supposed myself about five miles off Fire Island light, but could not do so on account of the fog. We were talking soundings when suddenly I heard.
